

North Pole Last Degree Expedition Route

Please click on this link to be directed to the Google Earth Community forum where I have posted the waypoints and route for our journey to the North Pole. By clicking on the "Attachment" in the posting you will be able to download a kmz file that opens the Google Earth program and displays our route. If you do not have Google Earth installed on your computer it is available for free from Google.

If you wish to keep the route locally on your computer, be sure to save the kmz file to your My Places folder before exiting Google Earth.
